Driver Walks Away--

Car Falls From Cliff to Tracks At Otterville, Is Hit by Train

It wasn't logs on the railroad track which stopped Missouri Pacific Eagle No. 9 at the Otterville Cut, Sunday morning like back in the '80's when Jesse James and his gang held up the train -- it was a Crosley panel truck which loomed up on the tracks before the engineer of the train. The passenger train was delayed for 55 minutes.

Robert L. Beaman, 29, 704 North Grand, owner and driver of the small car rode it over the 50-foot bluff next to the Brownfield Roadside Park, two miles east of Otterville on Highway 50. He emerged from the wreckage before the train arrived and crawled down the tracks and out on to the side of Highway 50.

Beaman suffered a severe torn laceration of the right buttock, which jerked the flesh from the bone. He also suffered bruises. He was brought to Sedalia to the Woodland Hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance and was attended by Dr. R. A. Enochs and Dr. Glenn Walker.

Trooper Harold Priess, California, of the State Patrol, investigated the accident. Beaman told the Trooper he was returning to Sedalia from Versailles and had stopped at the Roadside Park for a rest. He was out of the truck when it started rolling from a knoll at the west edge of the park and he tried to open the door and stop it and the door was locked. He went around to the other door, got in and started to apply the brakes and the little vehicle started over the edge of the bluff. It

Fake Wire Messages Are Sent on SS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators received testimony today that faked telegrams opposing broadening of the social security program went to two Massachusetts senators last July.

John F. Lockwood, an investigator for the Special Senate Committee Investigating Lobbying, said he checked on 160 telegrams sent to Sens. Kennedy (D) and Saltonstall (R) and found that some of them were sent without the knowledge or consent of persons whose names were signed to them.

Two witnesses, Mrs. Grace M. Dahl, Alston, Mass., and Francis T. Burke, Salem, Mass., who have sold insurance for the Jack C. O'Conner Agency, Boston, testified they had not sent certain telegrams carrying their names.

Lockwood said the sales manager of the Boston insurance agency, Albert H. Stoddard, was the prime mover in the dispatch of 80 telegrams to Kennedy and 80 to Saltonstall.

He said most of the telegrams purportedly came from company agents throughout the state, but were sent from Boston and paid for by the O'Conner agency.

The investigator said he checked 29 persons whose names were on the telegrams. He said 16 told him they had given their consent to the wires.

Of the remainder, Lockwood testified, seven said they did not send such telegrams or allow their names to be used for that purpose, while several others refused to make a statement or testify to the committee for fear of "reprisal."

Lockwood said Stoddard acknowledged having sponsored the telegram campaign, but said he had taken steps to gain the knowledge and consent of those whose names were used.

Lockwood said Stoddard told of conferring with company supervisors, who in turn were to pass the word around to agents. He said Stoddard said there was an assumption that if negative responses were not received within two days it was all right to go ahead and use the persons' names in sending the telegrams.

The telegrams were against an amendment by Sen. George (D-Ga.) to broaden the social security program so that persons permanently disabled could start getting social security benefits at age 50 instead of age 65.

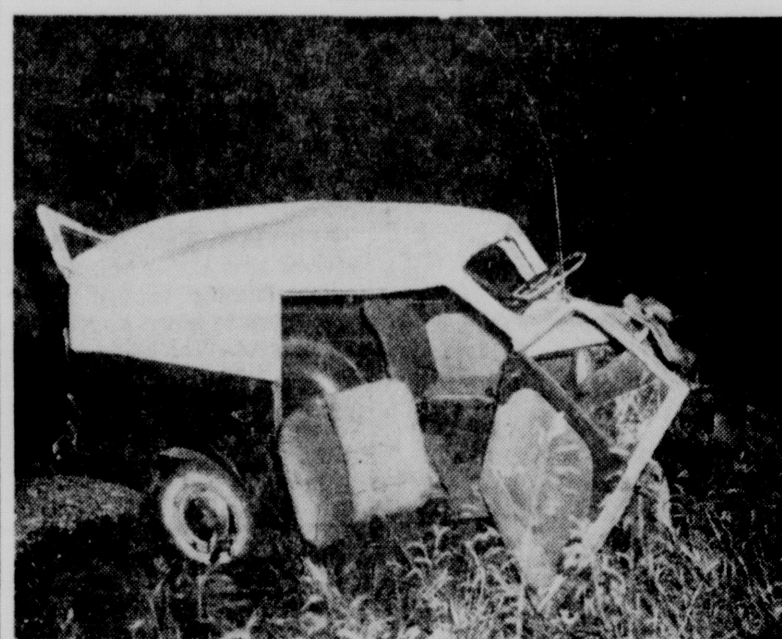

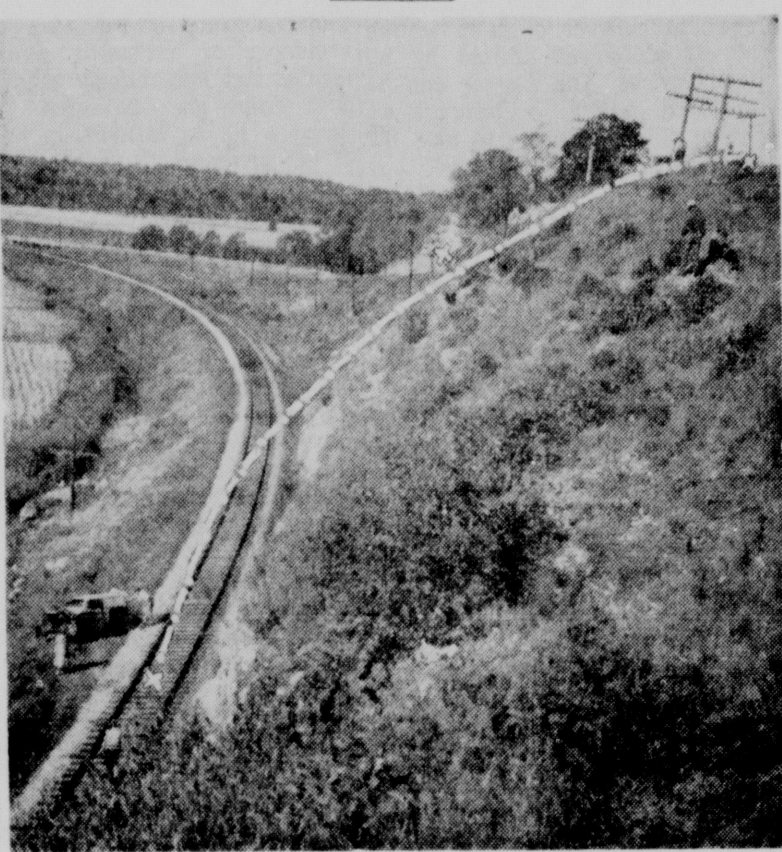

Congress finally enacted the amendment.

No Fuss
This cool dry weather is just what some people want but there probably wouldn't be any fuss if it suddenly rained.

Cooler tonight and Tuesday: low tonight in low 40s; high Tuesday near 70.

The temperature one year ago today, high 71, low 40; two years ago, high 78, low 50; three years ago, high 72, low 45.

To Elect Township Extension Directors At Meetings Tuesday

Extension Council directors for Blackwater, Houstonia, Longwood and Elk Fork townships are being elected this Tuesday evening, Oct. 9. Meetings are at 8 o'clock.

Blackwater's election will be at R-1 School. Dean Knight will be chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Raymond Brandt secretary. A woman director is to be elected.

The Houstonia election is at the school, with Jim Blackburn as chairman and Mrs. Earl Gregory as secretary. A woman director will be elected.

Longwood's election will also be at the school, with Tom Harvey as chairman and Mrs. Paul Stephens as secretary. A woman director is to be elected. The Elk Fork election is at the American Legion Hall. Willard Hall will serve as chairman and Mrs. Lowell Frazier as secretary. A woman director is to be elected.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) said the hearing will delve into the role of banks involved in the 1 1/2 million dollar fraudulent check cashing scandal for which Hodge is serving a prison term.

Schlitz said he cashed the checks because they were approved by his superior, Edward A. Hintz, who was president of the bank at the time.

Schlitz said he otherwise could have refused to cash them. Hintz now is serving a prison term for his part in the scandal.

"I have loyalty to my superiors," Schlitz said. "If Hintz gave me a check to cash I would do it."

He said that Edward A. Epping, Hodge's office manager who also is serving a prison term, usually was in Hintz' office when the checks were brought out for him to cash.

He said Hintz usually asked for the money in large bills, and the cash was kept in an envelope for Hodge.

Questioned by Fulbright, Schlitz said "it wasn't up to me to determine the validity of the checks if Hintz approved them."

"If they had been brought to me by Epping without approval,

Still No Moisture In Sight for State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The weatherman still has no encouraging word for those Missourians looking for rain.

"No precipitation of consequence" is his forecast for the next five days.

Otherwise, he says it will be cooler in the west and north tonight and over the state Tuesday, with tonight's lows in the upper 30s along the northern border to the 40s elsewhere. Tuesday's highs are expected to range from 65 to 70 in the northeast to the 70s elsewhere.

Lowest temperature reported in the state this morning was 32 degrees at West Plains.

To Check Banks Involved-- Senate Banking Committee Opens Hodge Case Hearing

CHICAGO (AP) — The assistant cashier of a Chicago bank testified today he cashed large checks for former State Auditor Orrville E. Hodge only because they were approved by his superior.

Ralph K. Schlitz, 30, assistant cashier of the Southmoor Bank & Trust Co., testified at the opening of a televised hearing by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) said the hearing will delve into the role of banks involved in the 1 1/2 million dollar fraudulent check cashing scandal for which Hodge is serving a prison term.

Schlitz said he cashed the checks because they were approved by his superior, Edward A. Hintz, who was president of the bank at the time.

Schlitz said he otherwise could have refused to cash them. Hintz now is serving a prison term for his part in the scandal.

Series Stands 3-2;
Larsen Pitches
First Perfect Game
In World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen of the Yankees pitched the first perfect game in World Series history and Mickey Mantle hit a telling home run today as the Yankees whipped the Dodgers 2-0 in the fifth World Series game and took a 3-2 lead in the series. Larsen didn't give a hit or a walk. And not a Dodger reached first.

FIRST INNING
DODGERS—Gilliam was called out on strikes.
Reese went out the same way, looking at a pitch.
Bauer made a knee-high catch of Snider's liner.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES — Bauer popped to Reese.
Robinson came in fast for Collins bunt toward third and threw him out.

As Mantle came to bat the Dodgers shifted to the right with second baseman playing in short right with Reese the shortstop playing to the right of second base. Mantle lifted a high fly to Amoros in left.

Adlai's Draft, Bomb Ideas Get Comment

Reaction to Adlai E. Stevenson's campaign proposals on the subjects of halting H-bomb tests and the military draft today highlighted a weekend of increasing political warfare.

Criticism came from President Eisenhower and other Republicans, while Democrats leaped to Stevenson's defense. It seemed probable Stevenson himself shortly would re-enter the fray.

The Democratic presidential candidate on several occasions has said the United States should take the lead in ending tests of nuclear weapons, sometimes qualifying this with the proviso that other nations do the same. He has said the draft should be ended "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety."

Eisenhower led Republicans in replying to both proposals, issuing a White House statement on the nuclear tests Friday night and a draft statement Saturday night. Eisenhower said selective service is indispensable under present world conditions. "Loose talk of soon ending the draft," he said, would be seen by other nations "as letting down our guard."

He said this nation "is maintaining its military strength to safeguard the American people in their homes, to deter hostile attack at home and abroad, and to encourage the prospect of world peace. This administration is determined to continue that strength."

Stevenson has called for a fresh appraisal of selective service in the light of modern advances in warfare. He said in September the draft is "wasteful" and "inefficient."

Eisenhower said "to call the draft wasteful evidences either an ignorance of our military needs or a willingness to take a chance with our nation's security."

The President scheduled no other political activity over the weekend. He makes a major radio-television campaign broadcast from Pittsburgh tomorrow night.

Stevenson rested today at his farm home at Libertyville, Ill., preparing to take off tomorrow on a Western barnstorming tour.

In New York yesterday, he urged Americans to reject "complacency and indifference" until freedom is restored to "millions enslaved throughout the world."

Stevenson also drafted four energetic young campaigners—two governors and two senators—to help in a drive to saturate critically important California with the Democratic story.

The four are Governors Meyer of New Jersey and Leader of Pennsylvania and Senators Humphrey of Minnesota and Gore of Tennessee. Stevenson and the four allies will stage a series of separate and combined rallies in California Thursday and Friday.

Secretary of Defense Returns to Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson returned to his Pentagon office today saying he felt "surprisingly well, after fooling with the doctors" who performed surgery on him two weeks ago.

The Pentagon boss found his desk piled high with get well cards and messages of cheer. One card, which prompted Wilson to quip that there is at least "one discerning Democrat," read:

"Dear sir; I wouldn't vote Republican for less than $100,000 tax free, but I like you and hope you will get well soon. (signed) A Democrat."

Just two weeks ago, doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital here performed surgery to correct what they said was "a benign prostatic condition." Wilson left the hospital last week but remained in his Washington apartment until this morning.

Gas Pumps Demolished In Car Crash

Car Hits Oil Case, Pumps, Light Pole At Skelly Station

Two gasoline pumps, a metal oil case cabinet and a light pole with several lights on it were demolished about 12:10 a.m. Sunday when a car crashed into them at the Skelly Service Station, Broadway and Limit. No injuries were suffered by the driver of the car or others in the near vicinity.

George W. Bennett, 32, was driving a 1952 Chevrolet tudor sedan which was headed west on Broadway and swerved around to the left to go down Highway 65. The car was pulled in on the west drive of the service station, clipped the two pumps, metal cabinet, knocked down the iron light pole and stopped about 20 feet south of the drive.

Bennett told police officers he pulled in to keep from colliding with a truck driven by Harold F. Reisell, Mansfield, Mo., who was stopped in the center lane preparing to make a left turn to go west on Highway 50.

As the pumps, metal cabinet and light pole went flying into the air, one pump hit the left rear fender on the 1954 Chevrolet tudor sedan of Robert Cranfield, 2014 South Missouri, parked on the east lane beside the pumps. Damage estimated at $50 resulted to Cranfield's car.

Mrs. Cranfield and her son, Dennis, and Mrs. Dennis Allen and daughter, Pamela Allen, sitting in the Cranfield car, were unaware the car had been hit by the pump.

The west Sedalia fire truck was dispatched to the scene and washed gasoline which had been spilled on the drive down to the sewer.

Damage to the service station equipment and light fixtures was estimated at about $1,000. Slight damage resulted to Bennett's car. Bennett was charged with careless driving by the city police.

Cline Cain Attends National Hardware Show in New York

Cline Cain of the Cash Hardware Store, has returned from New York where he attended the National Hardware Show in the new coliseum at which 1200 hardware manufacturers exhibited.

From Oct. 3rd to 6th Cline wandered over the coliseum looking over the new gadgets and various kinds of hardware and making purchases, but hardware wasn't all he saw at the show. One day he saw the Duke of Windsor and the next day he saw the Duchess of Windsor. He stayed at the hotel where Stevenson stayed and saw him several times, too.

Postmaster Reminds Us That This Is Letter Writing Week

This is the week to get those unanswered letters written and to write a few additional letters. It is National Letter Writing Week, Oct. 7 to 13, and Postmaster Maurice Hogan would like Sedalia to go along with the rest of the nation in letter writing.

Commenting on the significance of National Letter Writing Week, Hogan pointed out that each year since 1938 this event has been observed as a reminder of the real meaning of a personal letter.

Emphasizing the traditional sanctity of the letter mail, Hogan reminded Sedalians that one of the basic American freedoms is the uncensored transmission of their first class mail. It is the most valuable possession of the citizens of a free country.

Letters hold scattered families together, they are a way of giving comfort, love and news to all the people of the land.

It doesn't matter whether a person lives in a big city or in the rural districts of this great country a letter properly addressed and stamped will be delivered.

Every home should have a mail box and in the country it is very necessary for mailboxes to be uniform and have the name printed plainly on it. The rural mailbox is perhaps one of the most important things in the country area.

The purpose of this event was to acquaint military commanders and civilians with the latest Air Force weapons and tactics by demonstration of these weapons in action at the Eglin proving ground.

Guests of the Air Force witnessed the one and one half hour program including the firing of aerial machine guns, cannon and rockets and the flyover of the latest fighter and bomber type aircraft. The fighters and bombers strafed and bombed targets set up in front of the grandstand from low and medium altitudes.

The visitors experienced the silent passage of the Air Force's latest supersonic fighter F-100, and saw the official Air Force flying team, the Thunderbirds, perform in a 15 minute thrilling exhibition. In addition, they witnessed the latest refueling techniques of bomber and fighter type aircraft and watched the Air Force's inter-continental bomber, the B-36, drop 154 bombs over a

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING

DODGERS — Robinson's hard smash was deflected by Cary into the hands of McDougald whose throw to Collins nipped Robinson by half a step.

Hodges went down swinging. Martin took Amoroso's high pop-up.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES — Berra popped to Reese.

Slaughter fled to Amoroso. Martin struck out but had to be tagged out when Campanella dropped the ball.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

DODGERS — Furillo fled to Bauer.

Campanella was called out on strikes.

Maglie fled to Mantle.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES—Robinson threw out McDougald.

Carey fouled to Campanella to the right of home plate.

Larsen also fouled to Campanella.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

DODGERS — Martin tossed out Gilliam.

Reese bounced out weakly to Martin.

Snider was called out on strikes.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES—Robinson threw out Bauer.

Collins was called out on strikes.

Mantle slammed his third home run of the series just inside the foul pole into the lower right field stands. It was his eighth homer in series competition.

Berra lined to Snider who made a spectacular diving catch at his shoe tops.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING

Robinson fled to Bauer.

Mantle made a spectacular backhanded catch of Hodges' drive in deep left center.

Amoroso drove a long foul that barely missed being a home run, the ball landing in the right field stands, just on the foul side of the pole.

Martin threw out Amoroso, who became the 15th consecutive Dodger to be retired.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES — Slaughter walked on a 3-1 pitch. It was the first base on balls by either pitcher.

Maglie charged off the mound for Martin's bunt and threw to Reese, forcing Slaughter at second.

McDougald hit a vicious liner that Reese leaped for, deflected then caught it in a second stab. The shortstop then fired to Hodges doubling up Martin.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING

DODGERS — Furillo popped to Martin.

Martin also took care of Campanella's pop-up.

Maglie struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES — Carey bounced a single over Maglie's head.

Larsen bunted in front of the plate and was out on the sacrifice, Campanella to Gilliam covering first.

Bauer rammed a single between third and short into left field scoring Carey.

Collins lined a single to right center, sending Bauer to third. Manager Walter Alston came out of the dugout to confer with Maglie. Sal remained in the game.

Hodges gloved Mantle's sharp rap and stepped on first to retire Mickey, then fired to Campanella and Bauer was hung up between third and home. Bauer was retired in a run down, to complete a double play.

One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING

DODGERS— McDougald grabbed Gilliam's low liner on a short hop and threw him out.

Reese fled to Mantle.

Snider skied to Slaughter.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKS—Larsen, the new record holder for consecutive men retired in a World Series, received a thunderous ovation when he came to bat. He received another cheer even after he struck out.

Bauer also struck out. Collins also went down swinging as Maglie retired the side on strikeouts.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING
DODGERS — Furillo fouled off Larsen's first pitch, hit another foul, took a ball that was too high, fouled off another and still another, then raised a routine fly to Bauer in right field.

Campanella fouled the first pitch into the upper left field stands, then swung and tapped the ball to Martin who threw him out easily.

He was the 26th consecutive batter to be retired.

Dale Mitchell, a left handed pinch hitter, batted for Maglie. He took a ball, high and outside, a slow curve that dipped over the plate for a strike, missed another curve for strike two, fouled a pitch back of the plate and was called out on a pitch that cut the outside corner to end the game and give Larsen a perfect game, the first ever pitched in World Series history.

The Yanks win 2-0.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Eldo Hosman, Kansas City, was fined $25 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of passing on a hill. Hosman pleaded guilty.

Glenn Blakesley, Kansas City, was fined $25 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of passing on a hill. Blakesley pleaded guilty.

O. J. Dotson, Kansas City, was fined $100 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of failing to keep his car under proper control. Dotson pleaded guilty.

Paul Williams Jr., Kansas City, came to bat. He received another cheer even after he struck out.

Bauer also struck out. Collins also went down swinging as Maglie retired the side on strikeouts.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING
DODGERS — Furillo fouled off Larsen's first pitch, hit another foul, took a ball that was too high, fouled off another and still another, then raised a routine fly to Bauer in right field.

Campanella fouled the first pitch into the upper left field stands, then swung and tapped the ball to Martin who threw him out easily.

He was the 26th consecutive batter to be retired.

Dale Mitchell, a left handed pinch hitter, batted for Maglie. He took a ball, high and outside, a slow curve that dipped over the plate for a strike, missed another curve for strike two, fouled a pitch back of the plate and was called out on a pitch that cut the outside corner to end the game and give Larsen a perfect game, the first ever pitched in World Series history.

The Yanks win 2-0.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Soil Bank Will Add Importance To Marketing

The fact that successful operation of the Soil Bank in 1957 will "tend to add buoyancy" to later markets makes orderly marketing of farm products especially important this year in the opinion of True D. Morse, Undersecretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Since this year's crop is only slightly smaller than the big crop of 1955, and the operation of the Soil Bank will "tend to add buoyancy" to the later market, the Undersecretary stresses that avoidance of excessive marketings at and immediately after the time crops are harvested "can mean a lot to farmers in terms of net income."

He reminds farmers that present "price support programs can be used very effectively to assist in orderly marketing." Through these programs "the government stands ready to make prompt loans on many leading crops. Through the use of these price-support loans, farmers can finance "holding" operations, keeping ownership of their crops and spreading marketings over the more favorable periods of the year."

Since storage is important in orderly marketing, the Undersecretary points out that "where additional on-farm space is needed, special Government programs of financial assistance are available to help build or buy what they need."

C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, adds that details of this assistance as well as standards for storage structures which qualify locally under price-support programs are available at the county ASC office at Sedalia.

Thomas Kirchoff, California, was fined $25 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of passing on a hill. Kirchoff pleaded guilty.

Marian Rodman, Olathe, was fined $25 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of passing on a hill. Mrs. Rodman pleaded guilty.

Lloyd Buford, Otterville, was fined $25 and costs Saturday morning on a charge of passing on a hill. Buford pleaded guilty.

State Traffic Toll Increases Over Last Year

The lives of 809 men, women and children was the price paid for Missouri highway travel during the first nine months of this year, according to the Missouri Highway Patrol. Even though September was the third successive month in which highway deaths fell below last year's figures, the yearly total is running six per cent above 1955 figures. With three dangerous months remaining, it appears certain that a new all-time high in Missouri traffic deaths will be reached this year. Last year's death toll was 1,071 killed.

The honoree received many nice gifts.

Tebom Homemakers With Mrs. Chipman

Mrs. Will Chipman was hostess to the Tebom Homemakers Extension Club of near Windsor at its September meeting with 17 members and two visitors, Mrs. Micca Straw, Tulsa, Okla. and Mrs. C. F. Charles, Clinton, present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Rolla Askins and opened by singing the club song. The devotion was given by Mrs. Homer Bowers; also, a poem, "Working Hands" followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Roll call was answered on "How I Resist Pressure Buying." A report was given by Mrs. Allen Tittsworth of the clothes that were contributed to a needy family.

Plans were made for Achievement Day at the Masonic Temple in Clinton Oct. 18, and on helping with the remodeling of the Calhoun City Hall basement for a community center with $5 donated to help with this work. Mrs. Harry Redford gave the report of the county council meeting in Clinton.

The lesson subject, "Financial Securities" was given by Mrs. Maynard George.

Report of the nominating committee was as follows: Mrs. Will Chipman, president; Mrs. Allen Tittsworth, vice-president; Mrs. Homer Bowers, secretary; Mrs. M. L. George, treasurer; Mrs. Lula Chipman, reporter; Mrs. V. H. Wharton, parliamentarian and Mrs. Harry Redford, game leader. It was announced that the club won first prize of $5.00 on their booth at Calhoun American Legion Fair.

The meeting closed by repeating the club collect in unison.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments.

Next meeting in October at the home of Mrs. Theron Clinton.

California WSCS Has Program on Far East

Thirty-five members of the WSCS met at the California Methodist church Monday evening, for the October meeting. Mrs. Dan Williams was a visitor. The quiet hour was held at 7:30 with Mrs. Neil Newton as leader.

The devotion was given by Mrs. P. W. Hug and the program "Volcanoes in Southeast Asia," was presented by Mrs. George Waggoner. Missionary talks were given by Mrs. G. H. Schmolze, Mrs. H. W. Schmidt and Miss Leta Robertson.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Berl York, president. Tentative plans are being made for the annual turkey dinner to be held in November.

After the business meeting, a social hour followed in the church dining room. The hostesses, Mrs. Charles Butts, Mrs. Ray Stewart, Mrs. Thomas Marcotti, and Mrs. James Newkirk, served refreshments from the table centered with the Halloween motif.

Training Union Holds Banquet For New Members

The R. G. Lee Young People's Training Union of the East Sedalia Baptist Church held a banquet in the church basement Saturday evening, Sept. 29, in honor of the new members who were to be promoted out of the Robert Moffatt Intermediate Union the following day. Other guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Davidson, Janet, Judy, Kenny and Keith; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Silvey, new leaders for the coming church year; Miss Doris Mae Stott, Training Union director; Mrs. Bertha Moon and three college students who were active in the young people's union during the summer months—Miss Frankie Campbell, nurse trainee at Missouri Baptist Hospital in St. Louis, Miss Ruth Waters, CMSC, Warrensburg, and Valgene Hayworth, Missouri University at Columbia.

Decorations were carried out in fall colors. Arrangements of fall flowers and colored candles decorated the tables. Programs were printed on colored leaves.

Don Morton gave the invocation. After the meal, pep singing was led by Miss Barbara Guymon, followed by a piano solo by Miss Doris Stott. She played a hymn variation of "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Janet and Judy Davidson of the junior department sang "It Is No Secret," accompanied by Miss Stott.

Joe Sands, outgoing president, acted as master of ceremonies and gave recognition to the following new officers: Barbara Guymon, president; Jackie Hutchison, vice-president; Linda Momborg, secretary; Patty Lane and Don Walters, group captains; Don Morton, Bible readers' leader; Geraldine Anthony, missionary leader; Mary Jane Snavely, social chairman, and Dolanna Lane, chorister.

Speaker for the evening was the Rev. Kenneth Davidson, pastor of the church, who pointed out in his talk at least seven things a young person must do to gain distinction in later life. He then dismissed with prayer.

Those being promoted were: Linda Momborg, Patty Lane, Don Walters, Mary Jane Snavely, Jackie Hutchison, Benny Sands, Billy Chambers, Dolanna Lane, Shirley Abney, Jerry Ward and John McMullin. Not all of the new members were able to attend.

Members of the R. G. Lee Union who prepared and served the meal to 22 guests were Geraldine Anthony, Barbara Guymon, Joe Sands, Don Morton and Jim Sands.

Dresden Homemakers Change Meeting Date

The Dresden Homemakers met at the community house for a half day meeting Sept. 25. A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Fichter and Mrs. John E. Farris, with a dessert from the food lesson. Over 115 pennies were collected for "Pennies for Friendship."

Because of conflicting dates, the club meeting was changed from the second Tuesday to the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Family night for the club and the 4-H Club will be Oct. 24 with a potluck supper.

Volunteer baby sitters will care for small children of members at each club meeting so the mothers can enjoy the sessions.

A report on county council was made by the president, Mrs. L. Raabe.

Mrs. Raabe installed the new officers.

Mrs. Zimmerman's letter was read by Mrs. George Farris. A report on family relations was made by Mrs. Richard Mills. Food lesson recipes were given out by the leader, Mrs. John E. Farris.

A review of the Country Woman Magazine was given by Mrs. D. Edwards.

Members drew the month they will be hostess for 1957 meetings. It was announced that Oct. 11 would be gift exchange idea day for all extension clubs, with home-made articles to be displayed.

Mrs. D. Edwards and Mrs. Richard Mills sang the 1957 club song, with the members joining in on the chorus.

Russellville Neighbors Visit At Buena Vista

A celebration is held each month at Buena Vista Home for those having birthdays that month, but many times relatives or friends will plan a special party for somebody at the home and that is just what happened Tuesday.

Tuesday Oct. 3, was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Elizabeth Shepherd, who for many years resided at Russellville, Mo. Several of her friends and neighbors there thought it would be nice to surprise her and that was just what they did. Mrs. Albert Edwards, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, Mrs. John Saar, Mrs. D. W. Campbell and Mrs. Melvina Schatzner came to Sedalia bringing with them a delicious dinner including a beautiful birthday cake. They brought many nice gifts, too. The dinner was served picnic style on the lawn of the home and some of her friends shared the good food with her.

But that wasn't all that happened at the home on Tuesday. Members of the Cotton Patch Community Club went to Buena Vista,

Blame Temperamental Jag

Something statisticians and researchers are overlooking about causes of automobile accidents is the emotional state of mind of a driver just before the crash.

Speed and intoxication are usually listed high on the scale of causes, but back of both may have been another contributing factor — an emotional flareup.

In this connection the Chicago Motor Club warns motorists not to drive their cars after having an argument. The obstacle to this safety measure is that so many arguments take place between man, wife, children or other passengers while the automobile is on the road. Usually everyone is upset and none therefore fit to drive. So they should park by the side of the road and have a game of softball, maybe?

Arguments and temperamental tantrums are not to be fooled with, however. It's serious business when the adrenal glands function in such a manner your judgment as an automobile driver becomes faulty, making you a road menace.

This business of blowing your top upsets the adrenal glands, and in turn upsets the individual. Then he or she upsets everybody else within range of voice, and finally the car is upset and there are more statistics some dead, some alive beside the highway.

We'd like to bet a straw toothpick that a big percentage of highway accidents are caused by these brainstorms just before the crash occurs. Why don't the police, highway patrolman and insurance companies make this inquiry a part of their form reports?

It would be interesting to the psychiatrists to know more about cause and effect relating to temperamental turnpike tumblebugs.

In the meantime leave that automobile alone until you cool off if you feel a temperamental or argumentative jag coming on.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Stock Transactions Get Close Inspection

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Despite Ed. Foote's hasty resignation as No. 2 man in the Justice Department's antitrust division, Congressional investigators are still going over his stock-market transactions with a fine-tooth comb. He's the official who bought some $65,000 worth of oil stock in the Warren Petroleum-Gulf oil merger just after he was called upon to pass on the merger. Foote's ok'd the merger, then rushed out and bought stock in his wife's name.

It turns out he also bought and sold stock in many companies that were under investigation by the antitrust division. The trading was done in his wife's name, but Foote personally placed most of the orders.

For example, he bought $7,293 worth of Phillips Petroleum stock on July 26, 1955, and sold it for $8,221 on Feb. 21, 1956. During this same period Foote took an active interest in an antitrust case involving a Phillips-owned pipeline.

Foote also bought $14,049 worth of General Motors stock, but hastily sold it the same day for $13,469 while the antitrust division was supposed to be investigating GM's handling of passengers cars.

Foote invested heavily in Chrysler and Ford, too, while their contracts with dealers were being investigated by the antitrust agents. Foote purchased $7,355 worth of Chrysler stock on March 31, 1955, and sold it for $8,725 on July 20, 1956. He bought $2,515 worth of Ford stock Jan. 26, 1956, sold it for $2,376 on March 13, 1956.

Foote also participated in reviewing an American Broadcasting Company-Paramount request to produce motion pictures free of antitrust objections. He chose this time to dabble in ABC-Paramount stock. He bought $2,767 worth of ABC-Paramount stock on May 3, 1955, and another $2,754 worth on May 6, 1956. He sold this stock for $2,592 on Jan. 24, 1956, and $2,555 on April 4, 1956.

House investigators are also checking other possible conflicts of interest in Foote's stock-market trading.

Ike's Gettysburg Farm

President Eisenhower's farm has attracted so many tourists to Gettysburg, Pa. that the local travel council is soliciting campaign contributions to keep Ike in office.

In a letter to business-members, the Gettysburg Travel Council pleads for GOP donations for political reasons, but strictly for "Our Own Self-Interest."

"Although political philosophies are involved," says the letter which went to Democrats and Republicans alike, "it is not intended that this letter be considered a political solicitation. It is written after careful consideration and in the firm conviction that our own self-interest in the preservation of the prestige of Gettysburg and Adams county is of primary importance to us, and that the efforts each one of us puts forth are not only mandatory but are plain common sense."

The letter points out that "The eyes of the country will be on Adams county on November 6th, and one of the big stories of the election will be whether or not this county supported its distinguished neighbor and his program—and to what extent. In 1952, General Eisenhower carried Adams county by more than 5,200. Should

Guest Editorial—

COLUMBIA MISSOURIAN: Automobile Taxes The Missouri County Judges Assn., recommended at its meeting in Jefferson City that the state collect personal taxes on cars at the same time licenses are issued. This sounds reasonable, if it would eliminate some of the red tape constantly hampering the payment of any kind of taxes. That way the man getting his license could take care of the tax payment at the same time and anyone would appreciate having any tax payment out of the way as soon as possible.

We have recommended before that Missouri simplify another procedure regarding automobiles: that of renewing driver's licenses every three years. For many people being able to mail the necessary fee to the proper office would be much more convenient than having to go to a certain place, stand in line, complete the forms and pay. It takes much time which many persons cannot afford.

For this reason a certain number of persons always forget to renew their licenses and must start all over again by taking a written and road test. This procedure is necessary to fulfill the law, and takes time and money of state authorities and private citizens.

The state could make many procedures smoother in the area of licenses and tax payments. These two recommendations on personal auto tax and driver's licenses would greatly help reach that goal.

he carry Adams county in 1956 by only that number—or by less—it will be the only unfavorable news story to spread itself across the country in the four years that the names Eisenhower and Gettysburg have been synonymous. Should he fail to carry the county, Gettysburg and Adams county stand disgraced before the world.

"Call it self-interest if you will," the letter adds. "That's about what it is. Gettysburg and Adams county have profited tremendously in dollars and, even more so, in priceless prestige-building publicity..."

The travel council urged its members "To make sure that everybody votes in November 6 and that the vote is in support of the President" and to contribute "To the Republican finance committee of Pennsylvania, which, in turn, finances the activities of the county committee."

This, claimed the council, "Is an investment in Gettysburg's future."

Note 1—Gettysburg happens to be in a Democratic district, and Ike's Congressman is energetic Young James Quigley, who has made quite an impact during his first term in Washington.

Note 2—There's so much interest in the Eisenhower farm that the biggest disappointment of ladies who visited there at the recent GOP rally was that they weren't invited inside the house. Everyone back home asked them about it later, but they had to confess that they saw only the farm buildings and grounds. (Mamie just didn't want too many folks traipsing over her carpets.)

Uncle Sam is covering the roof of the famous Smithsonian natural history building with a roof of strategic nickel alloy. This previous metal, used in jet engines, is so scarce that private companies have to get government permission to buy it. Yet the GSA has allotted almost 40 tons of scarce nickel to build the Smithsonian roof. GSA could have built the same roof with stainless steel for $25,000 less. Sol Schlesinger, whose Army CAP contract was investigated by the Senate investigating committee, made a personal plea to Secretary of the Army Brucker to renew his contract.

Schlesinger claimed that the Senate hearing put him out of business. Brucker listened politely, then advised Schlesinger to go into some other business. The Senate election subcommittee, headed by Sen. Gore of Tennessee, is resuming its probe of campaign contributions. Gore has scared off many of the large contributors to both parties. They have explained to both the Democrats and Republicans that they are afraid they may wind up in a Congressional investigation.

The Air Force is so short of funds and personnel that it has been forced to cut its goal from 137 wings to 132 wings. The smaller goal has been pushed on the Air Force but won't be announced until after the election.

Townsend Ex-Plan

Townsend Plan, Inc., is about busted. The last issue of The Townsend National Weekly carried an urgent appeal from Dr. Francis Townsend, founder of the movement, for a $15,000 emergency fund. The government has filed an $8,500 tax lien against the organization and it has no money to pay. It has sold its property in Cleveland, it has reduced the size of its newspaper and the outlook in this election year is gloomy.

Maybe it's just another proof of the increased cost of everything. Maybe it's merely an indication that the elderly people no longer have need of a lobby.

The Townsend movement was started back in the early depression days when old people were the first to lose their jobs and there wasn't enough charity to go around.

Dr. Townsend arose out of California in their defense. He advocated a general sales tax to finance pensions.

His movement has had support from 163 congressmen this year, but never quite enough to put over the Townsend Plan. Now the payroll deduction method for financing old age retirement is so well established that it would be hard to replace.

Candidates Shrewdly Aim for Front Page

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—All four candidates in this campaign are doing their best to catch the nation's eye. All have used radio and television some. And they've been aiming straight at newspapers' front pages.

The aiming sometimes has been pretty shrewd. President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson both got a lot of mileage out of their argument over ending the draft and the H-bomb tests.

In 1952 Eisenhower was credited with hitting on a surefire voter appeal — particularly to parents — with his promise to go to Korea, if elected, to try to end the war.

This year Stevenson certainly knew he had an appeal to parents when he talked of ending the draft, although all he really said was that the draft should end when it's safe to end it.

Perhaps because the campaign issues are pretty thin, he has repeatedly made headlines with his draft proposal, plus his suggestion for ending big-scale nuclear bomb tests if other nations agree to do the same.

Eisenhower did equally well in opposing Stevenson's ideas. He has made headlines in three different ways: in speeches, news conferences and White House statements.

Without opening his mouth as a candidate, Eisenhower as president issued separate statements on the draft and the H-bomb.

If he had issued one statement covering both subjects he would have made front pages for one day. Instead he made all the Saturday papers, morning and afternoon, with his explanation late Friday against ending H-bomb tests.

Then, with a statement Saturday against ending the draft, he made all the Sunday papers.

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Regardless of how much we have in the way of material goods, or prestige or glory, we always want more than we presently have. We are never satisfied. This attitude is sometimes criticized as being a weakness in people. On the other hand, this desire for more is encouraged by many as a worthwhile motive.

The person who becomes satisfied with the status quo has little to raise his sights, and to keep him working toward higher goals. It is no sin to desire one's own home or security or an education for one's children.

The mistake we sometimes make is that we desire things merely to possess them, or at the expense of other people. When selfishness becomes supreme the desire for possessions becomes a sin. Most of us have earned to help others at the same time that we are advancing our own interests.

We need to recognize the desire for spiritual advancement as well as material advancement. Actually the more we have spiritually, the more we ought to desire. Let us set our sights spiritually as high as heaven.

The more of God we have the more we want and the more we can have. God is infinite in His being, His love and His goodness. There is no end to His benevolence toward those who desire His gifts.

Stevenson has been spinning around the country at a feverish pace, making half a dozen or more speeches a day to little groups and big crowds.

That not only lets him talk directly with a lot of people; since he's followed everywhere by newsmen, he's assured of attention in the newspapers and on news broadcasts day and night. He has been in the news practically every day since the campaign began, far more than Eisenhower, who has said less.

Eisenhower's news conferences, though, are a ready-made device for talking on the issues since the newsmen at the conferences are bound to ask him about them.

Vice President Nixon and Sen. Estes Kefauver, working just as hard as Stevenson in their day-by-day barnstorming around the country, are also accompanied by newsmen from the wire services and the big newspapers.

So they are assured of nationwide stories every day. They're not depending on that alone. They've held a lot of news conferences where local reporters could ask questions and give them extra mileage in the local papers.

Ruth Millett Says—

A Woman Can Be Too Unselfish in Her Marriage

Being unselfish doesn't necessarily make a woman a good wife. In fact, a woman can be too unselfish for her own good and for the good of her marriage.

There are times for a woman to put her husband and children first. There are other times for her to put her own needs ahead.

Here are some examples: The woman who is so unselfish and undemanding that she encourages her husband to think only in terms of what he wants is building a shaky foundation for a marriage. It's not a sturdy one which will withstand stress and strain.

The woman who makes a slave of herself for her children isn't encouraging them to love and respect her. She is encouraging her own children to believe that what they want is all-important. She's leading them to believe that Mama exists just to make them happy and help them get what they demand.

The woman who meekly and unselfishly says, "Whatever you think is best is all right with me," may be unselfish, but she is also a dead weight. She doesn't add any spice to a marriage, initiate any new projects, or ever take the reins into her own hands.

The woman who lets her family impose on her is certain, in time, to resent their lack of thoughtfulness and cooperation. Also, she is making it more difficult for them to get along with others outside the home who aren't going as she is.

The woman who expects too little of her husband and demands nothing of him certainly doesn't encourage him to do his best. Happy homes and happy marriages aren't built on one person's complete unselfishness.

Each member of a family needs to have enough self-interest to get some things he wants as well as enough unselfishness to help others get what they want.

The Trading Stamp Craze

Opponents Begin To Cast Jaundiced Eye On Stickers

By Maurice G. Boehl
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Do you save trading stamps? If so, are you getting a bargain or getting gyped?

Since 1951, the craze has spread like wildfire. An estimated 40 million families now collect stamps. Although many state legislatures have considered bills to outlaw trading stamps, only the District of Columbia and Kansas have prohibited their use. Utah and North Dakota have exercised partial control.

The stamps are called everything from "something for nothing" to "they will cause a depression." The government is investigating. The Federal Trade Commission is determining if fair trade laws are violated. No check up is made to determine if the stamps mean increased prices for the consumer because as a Commerce Department official said, "We still have free markets in this country."

Why are buyers eager to get trading stamps? Consumer experts here list these reasons: gives housewives a reputation for being thrifty; fulfills a goal to complete a book; appears a painless way of getting some coveted prize.

Opponents of the stamp plans insist: prices have to be increased to pay for the stamps, that actually store's profits decrease, that unredeemed stamps give profit, that merchandise premiums given for stamps are inferior.

Dogs to Have Ultra Modern Residence

NEW YORK (AP)—A dog's life is the good life at a plush new $350,000 shelter opening in the Bronx today.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Plans for construction of a new wall at the state penitentiary in Jefferson City to strengthen security and reduce the need for guards have been revealed by Col. James D. Carter, state director of corrections.

Carter said he hopes to have the new wall built to separate the industrial and recreation sections of the prison from the cellblocks. He explained that this would completely shut off the working areas from the cellblocks at night. This would eliminate the need for guarding the industrial area and the recreation yard at night.

Carter also hopes to obtain authority to raze two old cellblocks and construct a modern auditorium and dining hall from materials from the old buildings. He explained that his building plans are all based on when funds are available.

Only 291 prisoners have escaped from the Missouri prison system in the last 5½ years, according to Col. Carter.

He recently made a survey of escapes and walkaways from the main penitentiary and prison farms. He said only about ten per cent of the escaped prisoners are not accounted for.

Missouri's air national guard may soon be equipped with F-86-D Sabre jet fighter planes, according to an unofficial report from state national guard headquarters.

The state's two national guard squadrons are presently equipped with B-26 light bombers—conventional type planes of World War I vintage. Capt. Richard Shelley, public information officer, said Missouri is one of three states with air guard units still equipped with conventional type aircraft. There was no word about how soon the changeover to jets might take place.

The Missouri air guard was organized in 1946 with F-51 Mustang fighters. After the Korean war it was reorganized into light bombardment units and has been using B-26's since that time.

Avoid Corn Sales Loss With Care

By CARL SCHENEMAN
MU Extension Agricultural Engineer

A corn picker operated properly can easily increase your corn sales by 10 to 15 per cent over one operated improperly.

Careless driving probably is the greatest cause of picker losses. Driving too fast in heavy corn and failing to keep the machine centered on the row are the factors that cause this loss. A machine traveling between two to three miles per hour will do an efficient job of picking.

Faulty adjustments of the picker result in excessive corn losses and clogging.

Checking the following for proper adjustment:

1. Gathering chains should be tightened so they will have one to two inches deflection when pulled out from the guide board. Gathering chains should be timed so that finger links on one side are spaced midway between finger links on the other side.

2. Snapping roller adjustments have a direct bearing on shelling losses and effect on cleanness of husking. Snapping rolls spaced $\frac{3}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch apart at the bottom are normal for ideal corn conditions. For wet, tough corn, use a closer spacing and for down or leaning corn, use a wider spacing. If trash accumulates on snapping rolls, install snap roll set screws or add more lugs on snapping rolls.

3. Husking bed adjustments involve regulation of tension on husking rolls and use of husking pegs. Tension should be increased for small eared corn and for corn extremely tough with tight husks. Tension should be decreased for larger ears and for corn which husks easily. Install husking pegs only when husks are extremely tight or in very dry condition.

The fan should be well lubricated and the screw covering should be kept clean of trash and husks.

Be sure and consult your operator's manual for specific instructions on corn picker adjustments.

Here's a method you can use to check your corn losses in the field.

Measure off a 3½ foot square and count the number of kernels on the ground. If you count 20 kernels in this area, your shelled corn loss is one bushel per acre.

For ear corn losses, step off 133 feet of row and pick up the ears in this area. The weight of this corn times 100 will give you the weight loss per acre.

Remember, careless and fast driving probably is the greatest cause of picker losses.

Don't forget to be safety minded around your corn picker. Make sure that the power take off shields and guards are in place. When your picker clogs, always stop the picker before getting off the tractor seat to make adjustments. Never work on a picker while it is running. If you follow this rule, you cannot lose a hand, arm, or leg.

High Production Brings Poultry Prices Down

You have an unusual opportunity to buy poultry products now at bargain prices. Dr. E. M. Funk, chairman of the poultry department at the University of Missouri, says heavy 1956 production of eggs, broilers, and turkeys has created the situation.

Funk says that in many cases, poultrymen won't get back their costs of production on these items. For example, in the broiler industry, the present price of live birds — 15 and 16 cents a pound — does not pay production costs, won't last long because poultry won't last long because poultrymen will get out of the business rather than take such losses month after month.

Consumers can also get a real bargain when buying eggs. By buying the small eggs on the market now, you can get a pound of eggs for about 25 to 30 cents while large eggs retail for about 35 to 40 cents per pound. And the poultryman says these small eggs are of finest quality.

Who is eligible for ACREAGE RESERVE ... all farms with allotments for

COTTON WHEAT PEANUTS RICE TOBACCO CORN (base acreage)

All farms with acreage allotments for cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice and tobacco, or base acreages for corn, are eligible to take part in the Acreage Reserve of the Soil Bank. Farmers who participate will reduce their 1957 acreage of one or more of these crops below the allotment or corn base. All farmers who wish to participate in 1957 should work out their plans with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. Payments will be made to compensate farmers for loss of net income resulting from crop acreage reduction. These payments will be based on normal crop yield for the reserved land, as determined by the County ASC Committee. Farmers may leave this land idle, or apply soil or water conservation practices on it. This land cannot be cropped or cut for hay during 1957 calendar year, and may not be grazed unless the Secretary of Agriculture determines an emergency exists. Farmers also may participate in the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve for which all farm land regularly used to produce crops is eligible.

Extension Elections This Week

Today we are thinking of the political elections ahead and hearing the importance of getting out to vote. We also need to think of the elections for extension directors this week. The men and women elected there along with the carry over directors from last year will have the responsibility of guiding extension work in the county during 1957.

These elections are not limited to rural people. Everyone in Sedalia as well as in the towns over the county have the right to vote.

The first two elections, Hughesville and Cedar, were Monday night. Those Tuesday night are Blackwater, Houstonia, Longwood and Elk Fork. Wednesday night are Heath's Creek, Dresden, Flat Creek and Washington. On Thursday night are LaMonte at 7 p.m., Sedalia, Smithton and Green Ridge. The three on Friday evening are Bowling Green, Prairie and Lake Creek. All meetings except LaMonte are at 8 p.m.

Present Drought Situation

Business men are frequently asking just how bad is the present drought situation. The state drought committee asked that question last week and here are some of the answers the local committee made.

First, how much rain has fallen in Pettis County since Jan. 1? The answer is 19.1 inches while the normal is 30.3 inches. A question on pastures brought the answer that there generally are none available.

Less than 45 per cent of the normal small grain acreage has been planted and most of it will not sprout without rain. A member of the county ASC reported one neighbor harrowed his wheat field on Sunday afternoon following a shower to try to retain all possible moisture. However it just came up on the upper side of the terrace ridges.

A question on water supply showed that creeks, springs, shallow wells and small ponds were dry with large ponds low. Another member of the drought committee told of stepping across Blackwater Creek recently, it was so low.

Roughage and hay supplies were felt to be not over 75 per cent of the fall and winter needs. Some Fields Held Moisture It is surprising as you drive down the road that once in a great while you see a field of small grain that came up and grew fairly well. John Knaus has such a field on the old Carl Chamberlin farm northeast of Sedalia. He is using it for hog pasture. Such fields had to be worked down immediately after plowing and kept worked to retain the moisture.

In the Dakotas the normal rainfall for the year is about the amount we have received in nine months. Whenever they plow fairly close to seeding time they work down the ground each day to hold all possible moisture. That may get to be a necessity in Missouri. However, we have the risk here of a rain coming after the ground is worked down and leaving it run together and stay too wet for seeding.

Reid Has Alfalfa Stand

Forest Reid of the Prairie Ridge community was in recently about a soil test. He was razzing me a little about our demands that alfalfa needed a solid seed bed. An old story was that it be solid enough that a Model T Ford could be driven across the field in high gear. Apparently Forest and his son, Clinton, had taken us at our word. I believe he said they had harrowed the field five times and disced it six times before they seeded the alfalfa about the 18th of August.

I was almost afraid to ask him how he came out but I need not have been. Apparently they have an average good stand and the alfalfa is now several inches tall. Only now and then did they find a dead plant, he reported.

One thing that puzzled him was the bare strip clear around the field. The turn rows should have been the most solid, he said. I agreed with him but was inclined to feel that grasshoppers had been responsible for keeping that strip bare.

Fire Prevention Week

A hazard very close to us with the dry weather is the danger of fire. I have seen a few fields with a fire guard plowed around them. That is a standard practice in dry weather in the Dakotas.

Now here are some figures on farm fires presented as part of National Fire Prevention Week which is Oct. 7-13. Spontaneous ignition 27.7 per cent, lightning 10.3 per cent, careless use of gasoline or fuel 5.1 per cent, tractor backfire 4.4 per cent, friction sparks from machinery 3.7 per cent and careless smoking 3.7 per cent. With the help of lightning rods or a good ground on a metal building all of these are preventable.

Long Range Soil Program Gets Results

By C. M. CHRISTY
MU Extension Soils Specialist

A long time soil improvement program is much surer of leading to satisfaction than simply trying to fertilize from crop to crop. Increasingly better yields year after year have been experienced by farmers who have set out to make bumper corn crops. Sometimes there is failure to reach the goal the first year after heavy soil treatments as bumper crops most often are made in succeeding years.

The only sure way of determining the soil nutrient situation is to make use of soil tests. Tests show the present inventory of nutrients in the soil. It is only through an interpretation of the tests that we are guided in amounts and kinds of plant foods to apply. Research and experience has shown that with given soil test levels, satisfactory crop yields can be produced only after the application of certain kinds and amounts of lime, phosphate, potash, and nitrogen.

These mineral fertility treatments definitely come in the category of long time soil improvement. We can expect these treatments, if made in adequate amounts, to influence crop quality and yields for several years.

Crop residues, barnyard manure, and green manure crops have a marked influence for several years. This is reflected in an improvement of the tilth of the soil as well as increased organic matter nitrogen.

Cost of starting a long time soil improvement program need not involve any more money than the use of limited fertility treatments. If funds are limited, develop a high level of fertility on a limited acreage. Your first decision is how much money you can use in a given year for fertilizer, lime, and other soil treatments. These materials will do the best job if used in adequate amounts even though fewer acres are treated.

Your county agent will be glad to discuss with you soil testing and the use of plant foods designed for a long time soil improvement program.

Extension Service Reports Damage To Turkey Flocks

And speaking of turkeys, chigger damage is being reported in some turkey flocks. Extension poultry specialists say such damage can be expected to continue until a hard frost.

Turkeys that have been confined to an area for four weeks seldom show any chigger damage. Turkey flocks within a month of market should not be moved to new chigger-infested areas, unless the area is sprayed. The insecticide recommended is malathion, and the area should be sprayed seven days before the turkeys are moved on to it.

On farms where the designated Acreage Reserve land has been or will be harvested or grazed and no payment is due to the operator, the agreement will be terminated.

On farms where part of the land designated as Acreage Reserve in the 1956 agreement has been grazed or harvested, the original agreement also will be terminated, but in this case the farm operator may sign a new agreement covering the land actually placed in the Acreage Reserve.

Staples advises that it may be several weeks before the necessary release forms and instructions are available at the county ASC office and that farmers will be advised when forms and instructions are received.

Farmers May Be Released From Soil Bank

Farmers who, through misunderstanding of the 1956 Acreage Reserve agreement, did not comply with the provisions of the agreement will be released from their agreements, advises C. A. Staples, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Failures to comply with 1956 Acreage Reserve agreements fall into two general groupings: (1) farms on which there was no acreage actually placed in the Acreage Reserve after the agreement was signed by the operator, and (2) farms on which only a part of the land designated in the agreement was actually placed in the Acreage Reserve.

On farms where the designated Acreage Reserve land has been or will be harvested or grazed and no payment is due to the operator, the agreement will be terminated.

Haunts Feeder Cattle— Prevention Is Best Method To Handle Shipping Fever

Trouble often haunts the cattle feeder as he refills his feedlots. According to Dr. A. H. Groth, dean of the University of Missouri School of Veterinary Medicine, there are several reasons why trouble may develop. Many feeder cattle are raised under range conditions. That means they have to make a big change when they move into feed lots. Also, during transportation, cattle often fail to get enough feed, water, and rest. Their resistance is lowered and they are more susceptible to parasites and diseases.

The result may be shipping fever — a term used to cover a wide variety of infections. Symptoms frequently begin with a watery discharge from eyes and nose, a cough may develop, and cattle will refuse feed. At first, the temperature is often high but then may drop a few degrees. In three or four days, cattle either improve or become worse and pneumonia develops.

Groth says prevention is the most effective way of dealing with shipping fever. Unfortunately, preventive measures should be taken at least three weeks before cattle are shipped. Since this involves additional handling, it's not always practical.

However, Groth says there are certain steps that can and should be taken by every feeder cattle ced in comfortable surroundings when they are received on the farm. They should be fed lightly at first with the feeding rate being increased gradually. An important item is to provide plenty of water.

Since there is always the possibility of disease, Groth says many cattle buyers have found it pays to call their veterinarian out a day or two after feeder stock arrive. He is then better able to handle any problems than if he isn't called until some cattle are sick.

Oklahoma Sets New Record-- Fans Don't Demand Refunds After First Full Big 7 Day

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY (AP)—There was no demand for ticket refunds after the first full slate of Big Seven Conference football competition Saturday.

Not even at Norman, Okla., where Bud Wilkinson's amazing national champions powdered off Kansas State 66-0 before 42,000.

The fans saw Oklahoma set a new record of 32 straight wins, score in their 108th consecutive game and complete 54 Big Seven tilts without a loss.

For the second Saturday paying customers got a bonus attraction at Lawrence, Kas., where Colorado won its second league game, 26-25, over the sharp but uncertain Jayhawks.

In another conference game at Lincoln, Nebr., the Nebraska Cornhuskers used a 15-yard field goal by George Harshman with 45 seconds remaining to beat Iowa State 9-7 before 30,000 fans.

At Columbia, the Missouri Tigers dropped their third straight, bowing 33-27 to SMU, but it was a spine-tingler for 25,000 spectators.

Nebraska will have an opportunity Saturday to pull into a tie

Former Champs On This Week's Fight Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Welterweights and middleweights of the two most active divisions in boxing dominate the week's program. Welterweight stars listed for action, include two ex-champions, Kid Gavilan and Tony DeMarco, and jolting Joe Miceli. The working middleweights include Spider Webb and Rory Calhoun, two young, ranking 160-pounders.

Miceli, a hard-hitting left hooker, meets Danny Giovannelli, aggressive boxer-puncher, in the all-New York welterweight headliner at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight. The 10-rounder will be telecast at a new time, 8:30 p.m. CST, over the Dumont network.

Webb, seventh-ranking middleweight contender from Chicago, guns for his 14th straight victory Wednesday night at the Chicago Stadium (ABC-TV, radio, 8 p. m., CST.) The 24-year-old ex-GI may have trouble making it for he takes on a toughie in Charlie Cotton of Toledo.

Calhoun, No. 6 contender from White Plains, N.Y., hopes to start a new victory streak Friday against England's Johnny Sullivan at the Cleveland arena (NBC-TV, radio, 8 p. m., CST).

DeMarco, a belter from Boston, and the crafty but fading Gavilan of Cuba, clash in a 10-rounder at the Boston Garden Saturday. This won't be televised.

Citizenship Club At Mark Twain School Organized for Year

The Junior American Citizenship club of Mark Twain School has been organized. The members are those of the two seventh grade classes. They are sponsored by Mrs. Minnie Van Horn and Kenneth Cordy.

The purposes of this club are to promote good citizenship, to prepare pupils for intelligent participation in duties of citizenship and to teach members how to conduct meetings according to parliamentary procedure.

Officers were elected. They are as follows: president, Donald Hausam; vice-president, Sylvia Rody; secretary, Sharon Maggard; and treasurer, John Buchholtz.

McMiller Is Enrolled In Photography School

Learning to be a professional photographer is an intriguing and involved task, according to Willie E. McMiller of Sedalia, who last month enrolled in the Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara, Calif.

"Before entering the Institute I never realized the great amount of technical knowledge and creative ability required before one can qualify as a professional photographer by modern standards," McMiller said.

A 1950 graduate of Hubbard High School, McMiller served with the U.S. Army before entering Brooks to study under the two-year professional program. He is the son of Mrs. Verlee Coleman, 510 Washington.

Hold Wife for Assault After Series Quarrel

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Dink Davis, 68, and his wife, 64, argued over the World Series.

Mrs. Davis told police her husband hit her twice with a chair, bruising her arms. Davis said she hit him with a hammer.

Davis went to a hospital for treatment of head lacerations. Mrs. Davis was charged with assault with intent to kill and was released on $1,000 bond.

Sooners Have Nation's Grid Crown Certain

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press
College football is looking for a new king in the East, satisfied with the one it has in the Midwest, wary of a new power in the South, but for a national champion—well, those Oklahoma Sooners will do and do very well.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners went their merry way Saturday, rolling up a major college record of 32 straight victories, to the surprise of exactly no one.

Kansas state was the victim and the only question was the score. It was 66-0 in spite of the fact that Wilkinson used five full teams.

If Oklahoma has a challenger for the top billing it assumed last year it will probably come from among Michigan State or Ohio State in the Midwest, Georgia Tech, Tennessee, Mississippi or unassuming Vanderbilt in the South, and one of several Southwest Conference biggies, including Texas Christian, Texas A&M and Baylor.

Southern California, probably the best in the Far West, can be expected to tumble in potential when Jon Arnett and others of its half-season players retire after USC's fifth game. The Trojans, with Arnett gaining 182 yards, whipped Wisconsin 13-6.

Michigan State, rated best in the Middle West and No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, and Ohio State, No. 4, used late rallies to defeat difficult opponents.

The Spartans were outplayed by strong Michigan for a half, then capitalized on a pass interception and a recovered fumble for a field goal and a touchdown and a 9-0 victory. Ohio State and Stanford had a scoring match for three quarters before the Buckeyes pulled away to win 32-20.

Georgia Tech, ranked third by the nation's experts, was idle but Tennessee, Ole Miss and Vandy upheld the prestige of the South. Tennessee, moving back into the national picture under Bowden Wyatt, thrashed Duke 33-20. Mississippi, sixth in the poll, defeated Houston 14-0.

Vanderbilt's power was unexpected and eye-popping in a 32-7 stomping of Alabama.

In the Southwest, Texas Christian blasted Arkansas, 41-6; The Texas Aggies downed Texas Tech 40-7; Baylor defeated Maryland 14-0; and Rice spilled Louisiana State 23-14.

In the major upset of the week-end, defense-minded Pitt lost to California 14-0 and left the East looking to the service academies for a possible successor to the Panthers as best in the sector.

5,000 Attend Electric Fair At Tipton

The 17th annual meeting and Electrical Fair of Co-Mo Electric Cooperative, Inc., was held at the Tipton Fairgrounds Thursday evening, Sept. 27, and all day Friday, Sept. 28, with a total estimated attendance of more than 5,000.

The new board members elected by the members in the business meeting are: Dorsey W. Clay, Route 1, Jamestown, replacing Stanley Schlotzauer; Karl Haldiman, Centertown, replacing Roy Gabert; Ben J. Thomas, Versailles, replacing David J. Hendrix.

At the board meeting immediately after the annual meeting, the following officers were elected: Marvin E. Phillips, High Point, president; Edwin G. Carl, Route 1, Booneville, vice-president; Warren A. Pettigrew, Latham, secretary and treasurer.

During the business session, the members were given a full treasurer's report.

Other highlights of the meeting were an address by Douglas G. Wright, administrator of the Southwestern Power Administration; an entertainment program; and the introduction of all past board members of the cooperative that were present at the meeting. Each member registering at the meeting was given a sack of five light bulbs. The oldest lady and man member registering at the meeting received a prize ham from A. C. Yontz. These members were Mrs. Kate Williams, California, 85, and A. J. Wilson, Jamestown, 92.

Some of the state and national officials attending the meeting were: Morgan M. Moulder, Congressman from this district; Haskell Holman, state auditor; Wal-

Don January, Lampasas, Tex., Bill Bisdorf, San Diego, Jim Ferrer, North Hollywood, and Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y., tied for third with 273.

Dancer Who Shocked The World Dies at 76 After Long Illness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Maud Allan, the controversial dancer who shocked the world nearly 50 years ago with her portrayal of a flimsy-clad Salome passionately clutching the papier mache head of John the Baptist, is dead at 76.

Miss Allan, bed-ridden for nearly two years, died yesterday at a rest home.

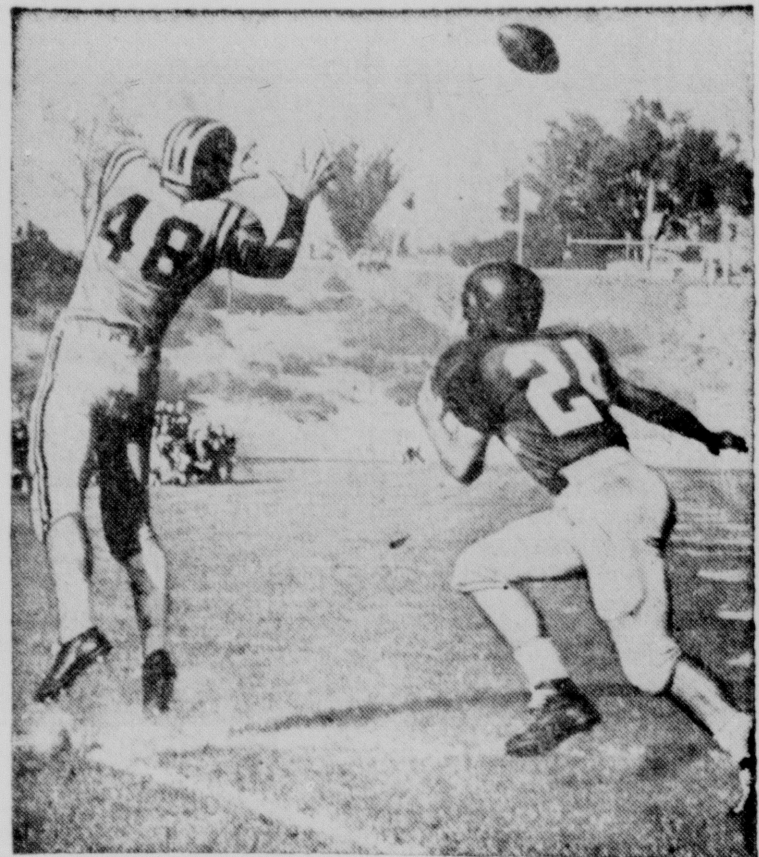

She created a sensation when in 1908 she appeared at London's Palace Theatre clad in diaphanous veils to dance her "Vision of Salome."

She was a pioneer in aesthetic dancing in revealing costume, but was modest compared with today's bubble and fan dancers. She always defended her dances as pure art.

Her dancing career ended in 1933 when she was seriously hurt in an auto accident. She recovered to write an autobiography and to encourage other dancers on their way up.

To Hold Show With Turkey Course at MU

A turkey show will be held in connection with the Missouri Turkey Short Course this year. Dates for the show and short course to be held on the University campus are Oct. 25 and 26.

Walter Russell, extension poultry specialist, says any turkey grower in the state can enter the show. Each entry consists of a tom and a hen which will be judged both live and dressed. Entry blanks are available from Missouri hatcherymen or from the Missouri Turkey Federation at Columbia.

According to Russell, 30 entries have already been received in the junior division of the show. About 25 entries are expected in the senior division.

The top five entries in each class will be sold at special auction on the last day of the show.

A feature of the short course program will be a discussion on turkey diseases by Dr. Ben Pomero, a nationally known authority on the subject. There will also be some work on selecting and testing turkey breeding flocks, and a University agricultural economist will present the outlook for the turkey industry.

Anyone interested is invited to attend this turkey show and short course at the University of Missouri, Oct. 25 and 26.

Only 2 Teams Undefeated In Pro League

By NICK ELLENA
As the National Football League heads into its third week-end of action, only two undefeated teams remain—the Chicago Cardinals and the Detroit Lions, both preseason underdogs.

The Cardinals, who defeated the New York Giants 35-27 Sunday for their second straight victory, were given little chance of finishing higher than last - year's fourth place in a tough, balanced Eastern Conference. The Lions, dropping from Western Conference champs in 1954 to cellar-dwellers in 1955, also won their second straight, surprising Baltimore and the experts 31-14 Saturday night.

In other Sunday action, the Chicago Bears righted themselves on the arm of quarterback Ed Brown and the toe of George Blanda for a 37-21 victory over Green Bay and San Francisco's 49ers stunned defending Western champion Los Angeles 33-30 on brilliant kicking by veteran Gordie Soltau.

League champion Cleveland, and Philadelphia, each won their first game of the season Saturday night, the Browns upending Pittsburgh 14-10 and the Eagles sloshing to a rain-washed 13-9 decision over Washington.

Quarterback Lamar McHan, running for two touchdowns and passing for two, upset the odds against New York and more than equalized three touchdowns by the Giants' Mel Triplett. It was Triplett's second straight three-touchdown performance.

Brown, completing 11 of 15 tosses for 188 yards, flipped 2 for touchdowns and scored himself from 3 yards out with a recovered fumble. Blanda booted three field goals and added to his league record for extra points with four, giving him 150 without a miss. Green Bay's Al Carmichael ran back the opening kickoff 106 yards for a score to break the league mark by a yard. The Bears have a 1-1 record. Green Bay is 0-2.

Soltau, All - Pro end in 1952, kicked four field goals, from 37, 39, 15 and 25 yards, accounting for his team's 12-10 halftime lead. A last-minute Ram threat produced a touchdown on an 8-yard pass from Norm van Brocklin to Elroy Hirsch, but time ran out as the season's largest crowd at Kehr Stadium, 56,489 fans, went wild.

Detroit rode Bobby Lane's passes for a 21-7 halftime lead and then scored 10 points in the last period to sink the Colts. Lane hit his first three passes for 50 yards, the last an 11-yard payoff toss to rookie Don McIlhenny.

Fair Weather Prevails Over Most of Nation; Cool Air in East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A bright belt of clear fall weather stretched across most of the nation today.

Fair weather with temperatures in the mid 60s was forecast for the fifth game of the World Series in New York.

Scattered showers sprinkled sections of the North Atlantic coastal states and from northern California to Wyoming.

Seasonably warm weather prevailed from the Dakotas to Lake Michigan southwestward to New Mexico.

Meanwhile, a cool air mass ranged over the eastern portion of the nation from the Atlantic Seaboard as far west as Texas. Temperatures were in the 40s in the north to near 60 in the south.

High readings were forecast for the eastern Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and Tennessee, Kansas and Oklahoma as warm air moved southward, pushed by a cool air mass from Canada.

Film Capital Gets Preview Of Moses Show

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood has had a preview look at the most expensive movie ever made — "The Ten Commandments" — and it'll take a bigger and better adjective than colossal to describe it.

It's 75-year-old Cecil B. DeMille's 70th picture and easily the masterpiece of the screen's master showman.

DeMille spent 12 hours a day for five years plus $13,500,000 of Paramount's money to put the life of Moses on the screen. The budget almost doubles the seven million spent on "Quo Vadis," and more than triples the cost of "Gone With The Wind."

The latter picture, which has grossed 25 million dollars, is the all time boxoffice champion, but Paramount expects "The Ten Commandments" to bring in 100 million dollars over the next 20 years.

Much of the big cost was due to DeMille's insistence on shooting such scenes as the Exodus on the actual locale—Egypt's Sinai Valley.

And only DeMille, with characteristic lavishness, would build three pyramids and 16 Sphinxes less than five miles from the real ones.

But the old man knew what he was doing. The result is more a religious experience than a movie. It's an armchair pilgrimage.

Research alone cost $250,000. But historically it's money well spent. DeMille hired a team of researchers at the University of Southern California who came up with little known facts of Moses' life.

From the writings of ancient Roman historians, Josephus and Philo; from the rabbinical legends and even from the Koran of Islam, the researchers were able to bridge the 30 years omitted in the Biblical history of Moses. The research turned up proof of the traditional belief that Moses was a prince of Egypt and one of its great generals.

The picture has all the famed DeMille ingredients—sex, bathing scenes, dancing girls, racing chariots plus his second splitting of the Red Sea.

He did it before in a silent version of "The Ten Commandments," made in 1923. That was the first picture to cost more than a million. Paramount fired DeMille when the cost soared, but had to rehire him because no one but DeMille can do a DeMille spectacle.

Charlton Heston plays Moses and does a superb job, as does Yul Brynner as Rameses II, the despotic Pharaoh of the Exodus.

DeMille used a record number of extras—25,000—for the Exodus scene.

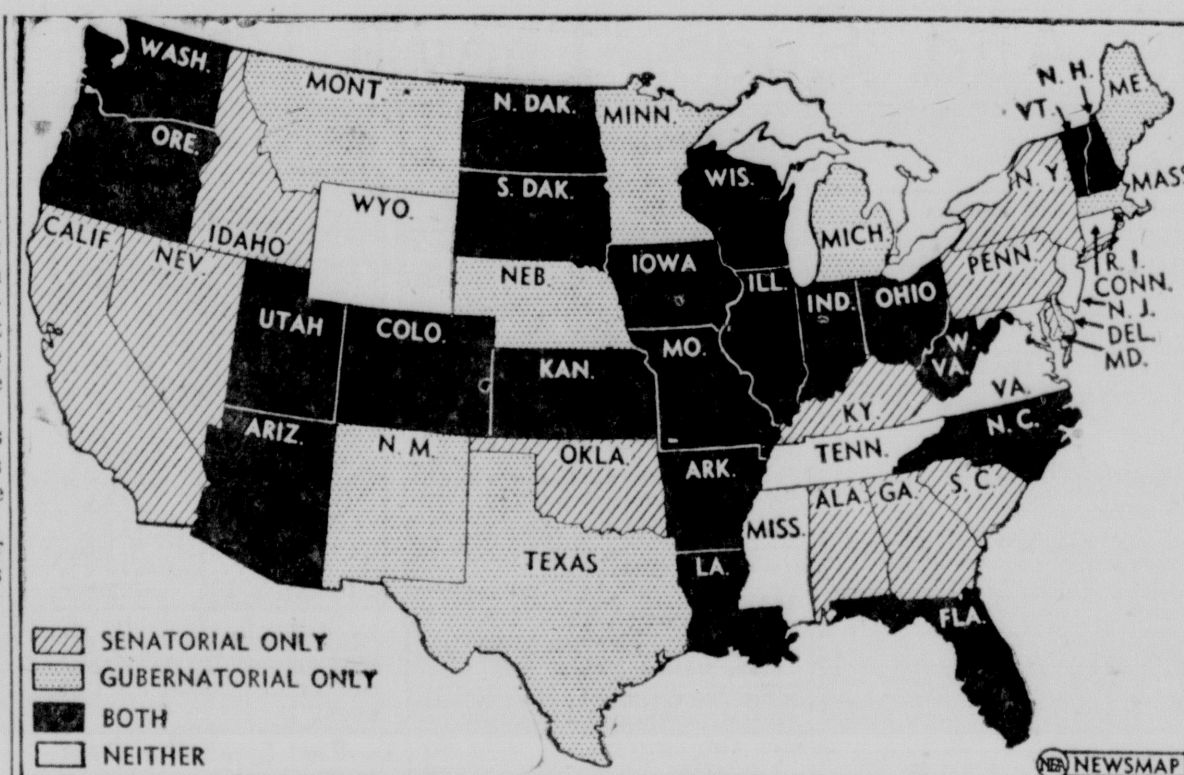

Four Leaders Will Attend Scout Meeting

George Sutherland, Chairman of the Jamboree Committee, Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America announced today that four adult leaders had been selected to go to the Jamboree in 1957. Those leaders were C. A. Phillips of Sedalia, Scoutmaster; Edwin F. Ford of Eldon, Ray Dennis of Marshall and George Huestep of Jefferson City as Assistant Scoutmasters.

According to Sutherland the Lake of the Ozarks Council will have a contingent of 48 Scouts and Explorers. Until Jan. 1, reservations are being accepted from units one per unit. After that date reservations can be thrown open on the basis of the date reservation was made.

The other members of the Jamboree Committee are Harold Douglas, Marshall, member of the Saline District; Charles Bailey, Eldon, member of the Lake District; Abe Silverman, Sedalia, member of Pettis District; Russell Sexton, Jefferson City, member of Co. District; and Denver Camden of Owensville, member of Twin River District.

The Maine gubernatorial election was held Sept. 10. Gov. Edmund Muskie (D) was re-elected.

Negro Congressman Won't Enter Campaign For Either Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) said as a Negro, he cannot campaign for either Adlai E. Stevenson or President Eisenhower.

Powell, pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem, urged his congregation yesterday to "think first as an American and second as a Negro—there isn't anything to the Democrats or Republicans."

"How can I as a Negro campaign for Stevenson or Eisenhower," he asked, when both parties "take Negro money and send it to Mississippi and other Southern states to build separate schools for whites and Negroes."

Hal Boyle's Column-- Woman Is Vice President Of Business Firm at Age 28

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Joan Grove could well be the heroine of a Horstene Alger success story.

At 28 she can't cook and is afraid of gas stoves. But she is a vice president in a 12-million-dollar a year firm, earns about $50,000 annually herself.

She also has her own apartment on Fifth Avenue—Jackie Gleason is a neighbor in the same building—dresses better than the average movie star, and collects expensive Louis XIV furniture. What else could a girl ask for—except maybe a decorative husband?

"I'm in no hurry for one," said Joan, a tall, slender, blue-eyed girl with blonde-tipped brunette hair. "Right now I like my life as it is."

Miss Grove, daughter of a Detroit auto engineer, was graduated in 1951 from Michigan State University, where she had studied sociology and psychology.

"I had dreamed of becoming a crusading social worker, spending my life helping the needy," she said, "but after looking into the financial rewards of social work, I decided I'd end up being a needy person myself. So I decided to try the business world."

A newspaper ad changed her career.

The ad was placed by Larry Mack, dynamic young president of Slenderella, Inc., who the year before had launched a nationwide chain of salons to help American women improve their figures.

Joan, who has an interesting figure herself (33-24-35), skyrocketed right up with the skyrocketing firm which last year claims it reduced U.S. women four million inches in girth and three million pounds. This has freed in a crowded land a space equivalent to that taken up by 24,000 women weighing 125 pounds, or the area required to park 2,400 cars.

Last year Miss Grove became the youngest of seven vice presidents of Slenderella, and now supervises about 225 employees in 22 salons ranging from here to Canada.

"I like responsibility," she said frankly. "I have tremendous energy. I couldn't be happy as a housewife sitting around brooding about the price of potatoes."

Joan has decided opinions on the role of women as business executives, and doesn't hesitate about stating them.

"In hiring," she said, "I look first of all for sincerity. And I don't find it hard to make decisions. I study the facts in a situation thoroughly, but depend a lot on intuition also."

"There is a lot of nonsense written about feminine intuition. What is intuition really but a mental judgment based on all your previous experience? You have to heed intuition."

She believes any woman who is well-groomed, intelligent and has a well-balanced personality can succeed in business—and compete with men for top jobs.

"But she should be better dressed than most movie stars," Joan added. "She can't afford to look as casual or disheveled in public as—well, say Marilyn Monroe sometimes does. If clothes make the man, they are even more important to the business woman."

"I am very fond of hats myself, and believe a woman should have a hat for every mood."

Joan, who has some 125 hats, doesn't have any $2.90 moods. Her hats cost from $75 to $175 for a neat ermine bonnet.

"No, I can't cook," she said. "I'm actually afraid to light a gas stove. I don't cook because I do not have the time to learn to do it well. I don't like to do anything unless I can do it well."

Eventually she hopes to marry and have three children. But, admitting "I like fine things," she said she had no desire to serve as a breadwinner for any impecunious young artist or writer. Her husband will have to be able to support her in the same style she can now afford herself.

Her top job and high income overtake many young men in her own age bracket who hesitate to ask her for dates.

Is she lonely, for all her success? "Not now," she said soberly, "but I don't know how I'll feel when I'm 45. I'm not looking that far ahead."

Herring tidbits take to cooked diced beets. Mix the two with a vinegar-and-sugar dressing and serve as an appetizer.

Eve Arden Bids Farewell To TV Show

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—With a mixture of joy and regret, Eve Arden says farewell to her Miss Brooks. After four successful seasons, "Our Miss Brooks" has faded from the Friday night programing. She is coming back on reruns, appearing five times weekly on CBS-TV daytimes.

Eve is shedding no tears over the passing of her schoolteacher character.

"After four years, I've had it," she sighed on one of her infrequent trips into town from her Hidden Valley ranch. "I think we went about as far as we could go with the show—perhaps even a little farther."

"I might have been more enthusiastic about going on if we hadn't had such a hassle last season. It was a mess. First of all, they started to change the format. I argued against it, but they went ahead anyway."

"Much of the time we didn't know what we were doing. The casting didn't work out right. There were last minute changes. We lost our writer, Al Lewis, because of an argument with another writer."

She admitted she did have some regrets about leaving the show. "I grew rather fond of Miss Brooks," she reflected. "After all, she has been very good to me."

Eve will be able to keep her ranch in chickens for a long time since she'll be collecting on the re-runs of the show. But she won't remain idle.

"I'm still under exclusive contract to CBS," she said. "I have three months to come up with the pilot film for a new series. It's largely a matter of finding the right writers and then the right casting."

Native Missourian Named to University Field Crops Position

A native Missourian has been named chairman of the field crops department at the University of Missouri. Emmett Pinnell will take over his new position Jan. 15. Pinnell replaces Marion Offutt who resigned last month.

At present, Pinnell is associate professor of agronomy at the University of Minnesota. Present teaching obligations and research projects will keep him at Minnesota until the first of the year. Lloyd Cavanah, associate professor of field crops at Missouri, will continue as acting chairman until Pinnell takes over.

The new field crops chairman is a native of Oak Hill, Mo. He received his B.S. degree in agriculture at the University in 1940. Hethen went to Minnesota as a faculty member and to work on graduate degrees. Pinnell has majored in the plant genetics field and his work at Minnesota has been primarily devoted to corn breeding work.

TOP OLD TIMER — Sen. Theodore Green (D-R.I.), 88, receives crown and scepter from Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.), marking record as oldest member of the Senate in history.

Some Couples Record Traffic Goes Through Suez Canal To Receive One SS Check

Some elderly couples will receive their social security benefits this month combined into a single family-check, Scott Webber, district manager of the Sedalia social security office announced today. Wives of retired workers who filed their claims within the last month or so will have their benefit amounts combined with their husbands' old-age and survivors insurance benefits, if they are living at the same address, and are not entitled to old-age insurance benefits based upon their own work records.

Up until now, Webber said, retired workers and their wives have been paid their benefits each month in separate checks, although in many cases, one of them would take both of the checks to the store or to the bank to be cashed. Being paid their monthly social security benefits in a single check will make the cashing of checks simpler for many of these couples, and if they have been paying fees to have their checks cashed, they will now have to pay only one fee instead of two. Webber emphasized that the combination of the husband's and the wife's benefits into one check in no way affects the right of either individual to his or her benefit, nor the amount of that benefit. Both of them must sign their names on the back of the check before the check can be cashed.

The new method of payment, which is being instituted on a trial basis, is expected to cut the expenses of the government in issuing and mailing checks and to relieve congestion in post offices around the first of each month when social security and other government checks are mailed out.

Since 1951, the Social Security Administration has combined benefit payments to children living in the same household into a single check. This procedure, by reducing the number of checks, has resulted in considerable savings.

About a million and a quarter wives are entitled to benefits based upon their retired husbands' social security accounts. For the present, combined checks will be issued only as wives of retired workers file their claims for benefits and are put on the social security benefit rolls, or in cases where payments to a husband and wife have been stopped for some reason, and are being started again. However, no combination of the social security benefits payable to a husband and wife will be made where they are not living together or where part of the wife's benefit amount is an old-age insurance benefit based upon her own record of work under social security. Separate checks will also continue to be issued

JAPAN'S NEXT PREMIER? Nobusuke Kishi is considered a good bet to succeed ailing Premier Ichiro Sato. Kishi, secretary-general of the Liberal-Democratic party, was one of Japan's original war-crime defendants but was released without trial. Although not anti-American, he's an ardent nationalist and could bring a more independent Japanese attitude to bear on world affairs.

Study Regulation of Diet In Premenstrual Tension

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It is said that about one third or one half of all women suffer mental and physical discomfort during the 10 days or two weeks preceding the onset of the monthly period. The amount and nature of such discomfort varies from woman to woman and from time to time.

One writer on the subject says that this condition, which is commonly known as premenstrual tension, is usually ushered in by a feeling of mild depression or anxiety associated with such symptoms as headache, sleeplessness, emotional instability, fatigue, painful swelling of the breasts, abdominal bloating, low abdominal pain, nausea and change in sexual desires.

Another says "pain and swelling of the breasts, abdominal bloating, backache, leg cramps, weight gain with or without visible edema (dropsy) of the ankles and face, marked exacerbation (increase) of acne form eruptions (pimples), asthmatic episodes, migraine and other types of headaches, anxiety and depression or irritability and restlessness, insomnia, vertigo (dizziness), as well as marked changes in thirst, appetite, and sexual desire are the more common symptoms".

Even if only a few women have only a few of these symptoms, it certainly sounds as though this condition deserved some medical attention. It has been receiving this in recent years.

The underlying cause of such symptoms is not entirely clear through suspicion certainly points to changes in hormone secretion. This changed secretion is thought to lead to three effects; retention of water, disturbance in the burning of starches in the body, and increase in the number of certain cells in some parts of the body.

Can anything be done for the woman who suffers from premenstrual tension to a degree which incapacitates or partially incapacitates her?

In one series of medical articles on this subject it seemed agreed that considerable relief could be provided by a diet in which the starches were reduced, salt was cut down, and the proteins and fats were increased. Also, the administration of certain vitamins was often of help.

In addition, there are several drugs available the value of which in reducing the symptoms of premenstrual tension has been claimed.

It should not be implied that every woman suffers enough premenstrual tension to require medical attention. Indeed, most women seem to have comparatively little difficulty though a certain degree of unhappiness and discomfort is undoubtedly often present.

Almost any of the symptoms mentioned can be exaggerated by paying them too much attention. Consequently a word of caution against exaggerating the importance of unpleasant symptoms during the premenstrual period is in order. However, for those who do have a good deal of trouble treatment by diet, and perhaps with drugs, offers considerable hope of providing some relief.

American Labor Party Dies Quiet Death

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Labor party has died a quiet death.

State Chairman Peter J. Hawley read a eulogy for the 20-year-old left-wing political organization yesterday. He said the state committee had voted to dissolve the party last Tuesday.

Hawley attributed the party's decline and death to "the cold war with its repressive atmosphere and consequent dwindling of labor support."

Lewis Courts Merger of Big Coal Firms

CINCINNATI (AP)—Merger of the nation's coal business into a few big firms is expected and even courted by the coal industry's labor organization, the United Mine Workers.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, has put an accent on improving industry efficiency to pay for rising wages and worker benefits and says industry combines will help advance that cause.

This policy has been made clear by Lewis during sessions of UMW convention sessions, which resume today for a second week.

Lewis told the convention that the new era of peaceful labor negotiations in the industry, contrasting with the former period of bitter strikes, is making possible larger combinations of coal producers.

The UMW chief said the industry trend toward a few big operating firms is to be desired, not blocked. He said the pooling of capital, purchasing and managerial talent could only result in lower industry costs and enable producers to pay miners greater benefits.

"These great combines now being formed in the industry are able to save enormous sums of money," he said. "That is modern operation. That condition is one which I think the industry now in its major sense is dedicated to continue."

The significance of the situation in coal seemed to be that Lewis, having succeeded in building the UMW labor organization into a force fully able to barter the best terms possible, now is encouraging coal producers into more efficient combinations to pay even higher wages and keep costs down. Lewis recently won a new $2.40 daily pay boost for coal miners that brought them to a $22.25 basic wage level.

Lewis, a close student of the coal industry, sees a vast growing market for coal, despite gas or oil, or even atomic energy power.

Lewis told his UMW delegates that coal production, now exceeding 500 million tons a year, probably will double to a billion tons by 1975. He said the reason is the vast expansion of electrical energy needs in the United States.

The UMW is so satisfied over coal's future that it now has virtually abandoned a long-term opposition against water power development.

Newsmen Are Barred From Seeking Russian Daughter On Ship

CHERBOURG, France (AP)—The Cunard Line today barred reporters and photographers from the incoming liner Queen Mary so they would not disturb a Russian taking his 2½-year-old American-born daughter to the Soviet Union.

The father, Alexis Chwastov, slipped aboard the ship with the child, Tanya, in New York despite the mother's plea that the little girl be left with her in America.

U. S. immigration agents searched the Queen Mary for the child in vain last Wednesday until the ship reached international waters. However, a Russian official admitted the pair were on board and said under Soviet law Tanya was a Russian citizen. U. S. officials said the child was considered an American citizen by birth.

Because Chwastov does not have a French visa, police said they would prevent him from leaving the ship here. They added he has a British visa, however, and was expected to quit the ship in Southampton, the liner's next stop.

The French Interior Ministry said no warrant had been issued to have Chwastov or his daughter removed from the ship in Cherbourg.

Bookstall Keepers Ply Leisurely Trade in Paris

By DAVID MASON
PARIS (AP)—Here, as they have for centuries, bookstall keepers ply what is probably one of the most peaceful, picturesque and leisurely trades that can be found.

The bookstall operators, who set up shop along the tree-lined banks of the Seine, are as independent as Frenchmen come. They open their "business-out-of-a-box" when and if they like. They relax in the shade while their customers browse. And if it rains, they drop across the street for a quiet cup of coffee or an aperitif.

The bouquinistes—as they are called in French—got their start back in the 17th century. In those days, it was just a case of pushing a wheelbarrow up the river-side near the Cathedral of Notre Dame, piling some second hand books on top of the low stone walls along the banks and waiting for customers.

About the only change over the years in the business has been the addition of boxes along the walls to display the wares—mainly second hand books, prints, old maps, and occasionally, stamps, coins, or an old sword or Napoleonic helmet.

The bouquinistes are low pressure salesmen. They never shout their wares or try to coax a customer. Most just mingle with the browsers or lean on a nearby tree.

Some time ago, there was agitation in high quarters to ban the bookstalls—a major tourist attraction—as eyesores. But according to one veteran bouquiniste, such talk stopped when the city hall got a letter from an American tourist.

She threatened never to come to Paris again if the bookstalls were put out of business.

Ten-Shun!

Mayor John T. Copenhaver ordered the city's new police chief, former Detective Lt. Dallas Bias, to wear a fancy $300 uniform.

It had the four stripes of a Navy captain, the epaulets of an Air Force colonel, and a cap visor with "scrambled eggs" reminiscent of Gen. MacArthur's finest hour.

The first time Bias wore it on a downtown street, a sailor just out of boot camp came to rigid attention and saluted him.

Install Glenda Rhodes As 4-H President

Glenda Rhodes was installed as president of the Quisenberry Hustlers at its regular meeting Oct. 1 at Quisenberry School.

Other officers installed are, Rosann Mergen, vice-president; Clifford Chapell, secretary; Rosalee Mergen, reporter; Larry Wilson, treasurer; Wayne Linhart, game leader and Sara Oswald, song leader.

A hayride was enjoyed after the installation by the members and apples and popcorn were served.

There was 18 present. There will be a banquet at the school for the next meeting.

Famous Symbol

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's most famous symbol is probably the Aztec calendar, seen on every peso bill, most pottery and billfolds, scarves, as a trademark for many firms and as a backdrop to most Mexican events.

The centuries-old calendar weighs 25 tons, is on display at the National Museum.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

24 Persons Injured In Pakistan Clashes

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP)—Twenty-four persons, including three leaders of the Moslem League, were injured last night when rival groups advocating joint and separate elections for Hindus and Moslems clashed here.

The government banned public meetings and processions.

The Pakistan Parliament is considering whether to have separate or joint election rolls for the nation's two biggest religious communities.

Red China Will Give Aid to Nepal; Small Nation Gets US Aid

HONG KONG (AP)—Radio Peiping today announced that Red China will give the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal 60 million Indian rupees—about $12,650,000—in economic aid during the next three years. Nepal now gets a million dollars a year in U.S. aid.

The foreign policy of the little kingdom, which lives between India and Communist-controlled Tibet, previously has been closely aligned with India's.

University Dairy Day Set for October 16

Speaking of coming dates, the University of Missouri Dairy Day program has been set for Oct. 16. Featured speaker at the Dairy Day will be F. B. Morrison, reserve chairman of the animal husbandry department at Cornell University. Professor Morrison is possibly the greatest living authority on animal nutrition. He is particularly well known for his book, "Feeds and Feeding."

The program will include both talks and panel type discussions on many problems of interest to today's dairymen.

That date is Oct. 16 for the University of Missouri Dairy Day at Columbia.
